

WAR TORN EAGLE

BY AL SUPAK

This pattern is pretty cut and dry. Everything is basically the same as the first eagle pattern, with 1 great timesaver. I used “Steam and Seam 2 Lite” to adhere the applique quicker and easier, with more options to adjust it just the way you like it before making the final iron.

That being said, remember to do a few things that I messed up on.

- Iron steam and seam to material before cutting out pattern.
- Make sure to orient top and bottom of pattern, so as to not have steam and seam on the wrong side
- Iron material flat, and then let it cool, before putting steam and seam on

- Steam and seam the stars to the blue PRIOR to cutting out the blue pattern, so when you cut the blue, the edge stars align correctly.
- Stars 2,12,13, you may want to leave a little extra material on the flat side so that when you trim the blue, they all come out even

These things are obvious to the seasoned people, but for those like me, here you go.....

I used the same background quilt pattern as the first, but made a few size adjustments for my likings.

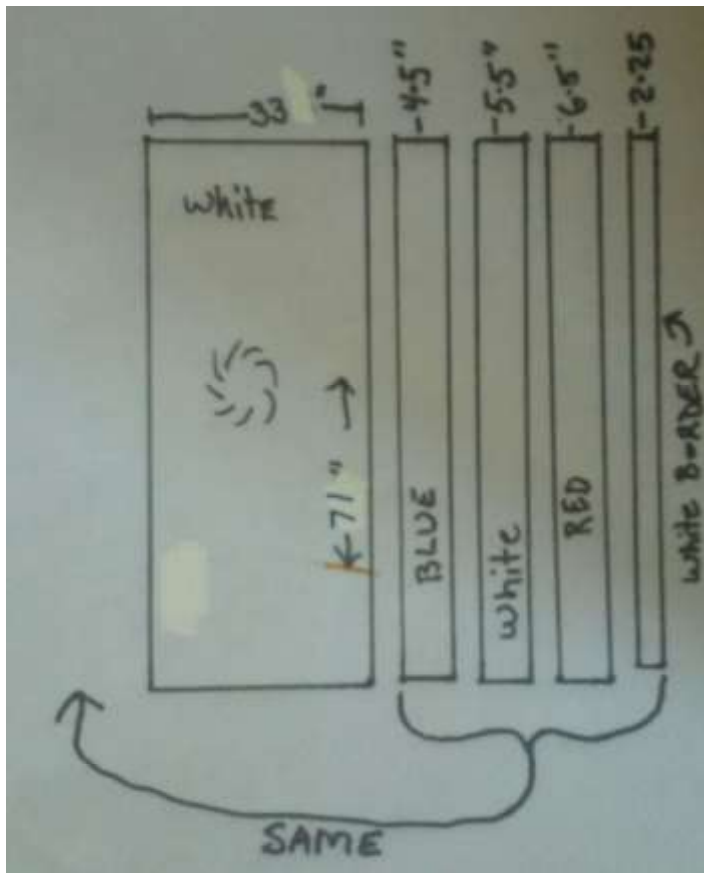

As always, this pattern is free. Please share it with anyone you believe may use it to benefit soldiers, and please share your completed work with me so I can see how people have changed it up.

hint.... This could easily be turned into a block panel for adding to your own quilt design.

PLEASE, take the time to visit Jeanne's web page and thank her for hosting this for us.

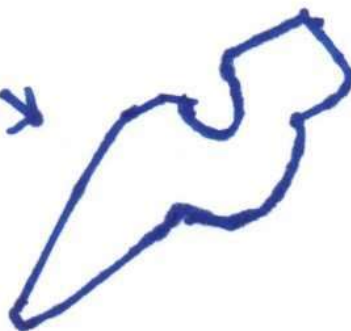

Now that I have learned that "fat quarter" is not what I thought it was, I will not request that. Any donations are greatly appreciated, but not necessary
